Better Bond Prices Cheer Officials, Who Hit Talk of Inflation

Treasury Buys $45,098,100 In Government Bonds In Addition To $22,000,000 Home Owners' Loan Corporation Bonds.

THE SILVER POLICY

No Present Plans To Issue As Much Silver-Backed Currency as the Law Permits.

Washington, August 14 (AP)—Better prices for government bonds cheered treasury officials today as they threw cold water on talk of inflation.

They also disclosed that the treasury bought $45,098,100 in government bonds last week, in addition to $22,000,000 Home Owners' Loan Corporation bonds previously announced.

Whether this was a move to support the United States bond market, which registered lower prices after the government moved to nationalize silver, was not stated. There apparently was no market for the securities at prices which the treasury considered suitable.

Faced with the task of borrowing $1,700,000,000 next month for refinancing, the treasury men saw with satisfaction that bond prices strengthened yesterday. A couple of hours after the close of the market, Secretary Morgenthau emphasized again that there is no present plan to issue as much silver-backed currency as the law permits.

He called newspapermen and sought to clarify the silver policy by making public correspondence between himself and the President, in which the latter authorized the issuance of certificates. The letters confirmed previous statements from the treasury.

They showed with the exception of $2,000,000 ounces, the present intention is to issue certificates on the cost price of the silver, not the statutory price of $1.29 an ounce. The cost to the treasury for nationalized silver has been set at 50.01 cents an ounce.

With the government embarked on a silver program which some advocates have said will bring a billion ounces into the treasury, the difference is an important one.

The purpose of making the letters public, Secretary Morgenthau said, was to "put in black and white an understanding the President and I have had since before he left on his trip."

The only silver on which certificates are being issued to the full rate of $1.29 is 62,000,000 ounces of "free" metal that already was in the treasury before the President's order.

Western Forest Fires Kill Three

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 14 (AP)—Roaring forest fires drove back exhausted crews in Idaho and California today after killing three C. C. C. workers.

The worst northern Idaho fire since the 1910 conflagration that wiped out entire towns, took the lives of two young men identified as Leroy McGinnis of Keweenaw, Ill., and Lester Johnson of Galesburg, Ill.

William Mattison, 21, of Los Angeles, was killed while fighting flames near Nevada City, Calif.

Falling snags, snarled and weakened by flames crushed each of the trio. Theirs were the first deaths this year in blazes which have raged through western forests and drawn heavily on C. C. C. camps for fire fighters.

Areas burned over by major Idaho fires were unestimated. A new blaze in the Clearwater forest, near Silt, was covered about 1,500 acres on Mt. Mountain.

Elsewhere in the west, with the exception of British Columbia where foresters abandoned their efforts, blazes were reported under control or of negligible proportions.

Would Restore Gross Income Levy To Raise $14,000,000 For Schools

Restoration of One Per Cent Gross Income Tax Proposed By Senate Finance Committee—Proposed As An Emergency Measure For One Year Only—Reports Favorably on the Porter Bill to Increase State Aid.

PROPOSED GROSS INCOME TAX NOW UNDER SURVEY

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP)—Here is how the one per cent gross income tax will be collected if it is passed by the legislature and signed by Governor Lehman.

Whom it affects—Everyone now required to file an income tax return.

What it adds—A flat tax of one cent on each dollar of income, subject only to the ordinary personal exemptions of $1,000 for single persons and $2,500 for married persons.

How it differs from the income tax—There is no increase in tax rate as the amount of an individual's income increases. No deductions are allowed for losses arising from sale or exchange of real or personal property.

What income it covers—Income for the calendar year of 1934 only, unless the taxpayer happens to be governed by the fiscal year, in which case it applies to income from June 30, 1934, to June 30, 1935.

How paid—In full at the time of filing a return. Any delay is subject to six per cent interest.

Who collects—State Tax Department, with $37,500 appropriation.

What it will yield—Estimated $14,000,000.

New York Central Treasurer Dead

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—New York Central Lines announced that Edward L. Rossiter, treasurer of the railroad, died today in a hospital at Bergen, Norway. He was 64 years old.

Rossiter, who was vacationing in Europe, was injured in a traffic accident in Bergen on July 15, leading to complications which resulted in his death from pneumonia.

He was connected with the New York Central Lines in various offices since 1887 when he became a clerk in the Treasury Department of the railroad, then called the New York Central and Hudson Railroad.

Rossiter's home was on Shore Road, Greenwich, Conn. He is survived by the widow, a son, Lawrence F. Rossiter, of Pasadena, Calif.; a daughter, Mrs. Raymond G. Daly, of Greenwich; a brother, Arthur W. Rossiter, of Glen Cove, N. Y.; and two sisters, Mrs. L. Leonard Twinn and Mrs. Charles E. Titus, both of New York.

MADMAN KNIFE AND CLUBBER STRIKES AGAIN

Defiance, O., Aug. 14 (AP)—This city's madman knife and clubber struck again today.

His sixth attack within two months—a period in which police and a corps of vigilantes headed by a "secret eight" have tried vainly to capture him—came when he stabbed Miss Mabel Krotz, middle-aged spinster, in the left forearm.

She was burning rubbish in an alley at the rear of her home in Defiance's central residential district when the man sneaked up behind her, brandishing a pocket knife. Before she could escape he stabbed at her. The wound was a superficial one.

Again Police Chief Karl A. Weaver mobilized the force of 100 vigilantes who immediately set out upon a city-wide search for the knifer, described as a mentally deranged youth.

Previous victims of the attacks were Mrs. Frank Bentley, Miss Kathleen Parret, Mrs. C. R. Williams, Mrs. Henry Hasch, Miss Rose Mary Mansfield and Mrs. Ethel Angler. Two of these victims were hurt in one attack. None was seriously injured.

Our Growing Population.

The following births have been reported to the board of health:

Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Nelson of 21 Lafayette avenue a son, Robert Donald, August 8, at the Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard H. Southbrier of 165 Wurts street, a daughter, Bernice Catherine, August 8, at the Kingston Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Buntin of 42 Hurley avenue, a daughter, Wanda Gay, August 7, at the Benedictine Hospital.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS IN FOUR STATES TODAY

Primary elections were held in four states today, ending campaigns marked with bitter words and the threat of senatorial investigations. The sharpest contests lay in Ohio and Nebraska, with less spectacular primaries in Idaho and Arkansas.

Albany, N. Y., August 14 (AP)—

Restoration of the one per cent gross income tax, which was once passed but never collected from New Yorkers, was proposed by the Senate finance committee today to raise $14,000,000 for an increase in state aid to schools.

Senator Jeremiah F. Twomey, chairman of the committee, said only one member voted against the tax plan.

If the legislature should adopt the tax, New Yorkers now subject to income taxes would have to pay an additional one per cent. In making this payment they would not be permitted to make the various deductions now allowed under the regular income tax. However, the regular exemptions of $2,500 for married persons and $1,000 for single persons are allowed.

The finance committee, with this recommendation, reported favorably on the Porter bill to increase state aid. This measure already has passed the Assembly.

"The committee proposed the tax as an emergency measure, for one year only," Senator Twomey said.

The one per cent gross income tax was originally imposed in 1933 on incomes for the calendar year 1934. At Governor Lehman's suggestion, however, the 1934 Legislature repealed the tax before it was ever collected. The governor made his recommendation on the basis of an apparent improvement in the state's financial condition.

No Agreement To Pass Tax.

"There has been no agreement to pass this tax," Twomey said. He added that it was significant, however, that only one vote in the finance committee, which includes members of both parties, was cast against it.

"We can't appropriate money for more school aid without some place to get the revenue," he said. "Some people figure that the state already has a deficit of $100,000,000. Tax it closer to $34,000,000."

If the tax is imposed, Twomey estimates it will yield $14,000,000. This will leave a margin of several hundred thousand dollars over the $13,300,000 proposed increase in state aid.

If the tax proposal gets the Porter bill through the legislature, this item will be increased to $15,000,000.

The Porter bill is a republican measure. With the tax amendments proposed by the Democratic-controlled finance committee it would become a bi-partisan bill, provided the Republican-controlled assembly is willing to approve the amendments.

Governor Lehman has insisted that the legislature provide the revenue if it wants to increase school aid. Republican legislators accused him of "passing the buck" by suggesting new taxes in an election year.

Local ERB Reducing Number of Employees

Under Ruling of State TERA It Is Necessary to Reduce Number of Men Employed on Work Relief Approximately 100—30 Men Let Go Monday.

Working under the ruling of the state TERA the local emergency relief bureau is forced to cut the number of men employed on work relief projects by approximately 100 men. The work of reducing the force was placed in effect on Monday afternoon when 30 men were released, and the remainder will be let go during the week.

Under the state ruling the local ERB is allowed to expend but 75 per cent of state and federal funds for work relief and 25 per cent for home relief. This ruling was explained to Mayor C. J. Heiselman and Henry Forest, chairman of the local ERB, at a conference held last Friday in New York.

52 Busses Were Examined Here

Fifty-two busses have been examined by Motorcycle Officer Henry Barnmann in the safety drive being conducted by the local police to safeguard against accidents caused by faulty brakes, poor tires, safety doors that won't open, etc. Most of the busses are stopped at the central terminal near the West Shore, where vehicles from nearby communities and long distance cities are halted for tests. Out of the 52 busses only three were ordered out of use until the brakes were fixed, indicating operators in general observe the laws of safety. Among the busses examined are included the ones operated by the Kingston Transportation Corporation operating in Kingston.

Many Banks Accepting Central Clearing House The Loan Insurance Plan For Those Receiving Aid For Home Improvement From Agencies Is Plan

Expect Every City To Have at Least One Bank Where Property Owners Can Obtain Insured Loans For Repairs.

OFFICIALS PLEASED

James A. Moffett Issues Optimistic Statement About Bankers' Willingness To Make Such Loans.

Washington, August 14 (AP)—By tonight the Federal Housing Administration expects every city to have at least one bank where property owners can obtain insured loans for repairs and improvements.

Roger Steffan, director of modernization credits, said so today as telegrams from bankers piled upon his desk.

His chief—James A. Moffett—backed him up with an optimistic statement about bankers' willingness to make such loans.

"Enough banks already have accepted the loan insurance plan," Moffett said. "To handle more business than we can send them immediately. The response of the bankers has been fine. They may not come in 100 per cent but that isn't necessary and we never expected it."

The housing administration announced the names of bankers selected in cooperation with the American Bankers' Association to advise and inform financial institutions in each state of the modernization program.

Moffett and Steffan looked forward to conferences here later today with some of the members of this group.

They were armed in these discussions with a letter from F. G. Awall, acting comptroller of the currency, explaining the attitude of federal banking officials.

Internal Business.

"The making of loans of this type by National Banks is a matter of internal business administration to be determined by each bank," Awall's letter to Moffett said.

"Because of the insurance provided for loans of this type, National Bank examiners will be instructed that such loans need not be classified as slow, doubtful, or loss so long as a sufficient insurance reserve exists to cover them."

"We're well satisfied with Mr. Awall's expression," Steffan asserted.

When a communication from a suburban banker in the southwest, who contended that bank examiners would not approve the modernization loans, he said that banker's views were expressed before Awall's statement had been made public.

Steffan explained the administration wanted every eligible financial institution to participate in the lending, but that one cooperating bank in every community would assure success. He said applications were taken by some banks Saturday and some loans probably have been made by now.

J. F. O'Connor, comptroller of the currency, has invited Moffett to confer with chief bank examiners here September 10. The examiners will return to their posts with detailed instructions as to classification of the repair and improvement loans.

The loans are offered to property owners who have good credit records and annual incomes at least five times the amount of annual payments they would have to make. Security is not required in states where such loans are legal.

The bankers appointed are "liaison officers" to disseminate information and advise the banks in their states and include:

Robert D. Goddard, Bridgeport, Connecticut; and W. K. Payne, of Southport, Connecticut, for the state of New York.

Central Bureau Will Keep List of All Persons Receiving Relief in City to Prevent Overlapping of Aid.

APPROVED

Several Agencies Have Already Approved Idea Which Is Required in Many Cities.

Kingston is to have a central clearing house for all those receiving relief, according to an announcement by Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman today, who stated that the new bureau would be known as the Social Service Exchange, and its purpose would be to compile a list of all those receiving relief so that no overlapping would result in the future.

The preliminary work, which is being done by volunteer workers, will include the contact of all clubs and organizations in the city which have relief organs, and the mayor asked that each organization detail a man to meet an organizer of the new project to talk over the situation. A number of organizations have already approved the idea, and others are expected to join as soon as the plans are made clear.

After the project is established the various organizations are expected to contribute a part toward its operation, and later relief funds may be obtained from state or national agencies to deduct from the expense of operation.

Six Agencies

The mayor said today that in a number of cases persons were receiving relief from several agencies at one time, and in at least one case an individual was receiving aid from six agencies. The new project will eliminate this trouble, each agency checking with the central office before granting relief.

Those clubs and organizations already listed to be contacted at first include the Home Relief agency, Catholic Charities, American Legion, Knights of Columbus, Junior League, Kiwanis Club, Rotary Club, Kingston Hospital, Benedictine Hospital, Board of Health, all churches, all lodges, Salvation Army, agencies under the direction of Welfare Commissioner Peter J. Halloran and agencies under the direction of Mrs. Remus.

The plan which has been approved and is required in many cities is expected to result in persons receiving no more relief than they are entitled to, and the mayor hopes that all organizations will cooperate fully in aid of the project.

Schacht Takes Stump On Hitler's Behalf

Berlin, Aug. 14 (AP)—Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, Germany's economic dictator, joined today the whirlwind campaign to make Adolf Hitler the country's new "Von Hindenburg."

"If we want to overcome present difficulties—as we will," said Schacht, "we can do so only under Hitler's leadership."

Trusted Hitler lieutenants are on the stump in a drive for Nazi self-justification. Germany votes Sunday on the question of approval of Hitler's seizure of the late President Von Hindenburg's powers.

Unlike other speakers, Schacht, who recently was appointed acting minister of economics and who is virtually boss of Reich finance and economics, frankly admitted Germany's woes.

In an appeal to the people written especially for the Boersen Zeitung, he said:

"Everybody knows what difficulties we face and it would be ridiculous to attempt to minimize these. But there is only one way of overcoming these, and that is by supporting the determined policy of Der Fuehrer (Hitler)."

Commenting on his association with Hitler, Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, asserted "time and again I have been astonished to note what a natural insight Adolf Hitler has into the economic process and its necessities."

Every detail of the employment program, he said, has been inspired by Hitler's influence.

Future Policy On Drouth and Farm Relief Expected From Roosevelt

FAIR WEATHER EXPECTED TO DRAW MANY SHOOTERS

Merchants announced this afternoon that everything is in readiness for the big fall dollar day tomorrow, when stocks of the various establishments will be offered at pronounced reductions in prices. The mayor has ordered that every facility of the city be extended to make the visit of the shopper a pleasant as well as a profitable one. Roads leading into the city will be in the best of condition for the out-of-town shoppers, and parking facilities at the uptown and Rose and Gorman parking grounds have been prepared to take care of the large crowds expected.

The sale is a city-wide event, in which all merchants are planning to cooperate. For some time plans have been made to offer sensational bargains on this date, and preparations have been in line with offering marked reductions in prices.

The weather forecast is fair and warmer so that merchants have made plans to accommodate large crowds with the addition of sales forces to meet the expected demand.

Stores will keep regular business hours, merchants warning the shoppers to buy early to avail themselves of the largest possible selection in stocks.

Judge Culliton Hears Seven Cases Today

In police court this morning City Judge Bernard A. Culliton had seven cases.

Sidney Myers of 81 Hasbrouck avenue summoned before the bar of justice to answer to two charges of public intoxication, one preferred against him July 11 and the other on August 12, pleaded guilty to the latter and was fined $5. Officer Peter Keresman made the arrest. On the charge of July 11 Myers had his hearing adjourned until August 21.

Louis M. Denniston, arrested on June 15 for reckless driving was represented in court by Attorney Chris Flanagan and had his case adjourned until August 28.

Frank Ulbrich, who has two charges against him for violation of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Law, had his hearing adjourned until August 21. Chris Flanagan is his attorney.

John Naccarato of North street and Richard Smith of Hudson street arrested about 3 o'clock this morning on a disorderly conduct charge because they failed to give satisfactory account of themselves to Officer Walter Fitzgerald were favored with a suspended sentence and a warning to keep better hours. If they wished to stay out of the toils of the police, Naccarato and Smith were picked up on account of their youthful age and because the police department has been the recipient of many complaints involving prowlers.

Clarence Ludwig, connected with a girls' camp at Rifton, was fined $2 for violating a parking ordinance uptown Monday.

William F. Wernitz of New York city, arrested on a warrant charging reckless driving, furnished bail of $50 for a hearing in court August 22.

Lorandas Bowyer of 60 Cedar street, arrested on a warrant charging third degree assault, the complainant being Elmer Smith of Fox, and then ordered to appear in court next Tuesday.

Judge Culliton, who desires testimony from two witnesses to be subpoenaed.

Smith had Bowyer arrested as the result of an altercation which took place Saturday night in Colonial Garage, where both are employed. Smith testified he was in charge of the garage. Bowyer said he went to the cash register to ring up a charge for washing a car as his custom and that Smith grabbed him, tossing his out of the office. Smith charges the negro punched him several times. He had no witnesses, but Bowyer had one. Judge Culliton, desiring to learn more about the case before passing on it, ordered the week's adjournment to summon two other men, whom he believes know something of the trouble between the two.

NEW LOW PRICED REFRIGERATOR HERE

Central Hudson employees are the first in the East to view the revolutionary low-priced electric refrigerators developed by six national manufacturers for use in the government home electrification projects in the Tennessee Valley.

Several local stores are already displaying the new type refrigerator.

May Include Answer to President's Critics on AAA Crop Reduction

AAA Officials Have Been Touring Country Telling Farmers That Human Control Necessary To End Overproduction.

ADJUSTMENT

Secretary Wallace Explains Control Not Increase or Decrease, Simply Adjustment.

Washington, August 14 (AP)—President Roosevelt is expected to lay before the country within the next few days a statement of future policy on drouth and farm relief.

There are indications that it may include an answer to critics of the AAA's crop reduction, some of whom have been stressing drouth devastation to emphasize what they call the "sin" of artificial slashing of food supplies.

AAA officials have been touring the country, answering this criticism. They told farmers that human control was necessary to curtail overproduction that depressed prices, to restore farm purchasing power, and thus to bring the national economy into better balance.

Secretary Wallace stressed yesterday that, though the AAA sought large cuts in production before the drouth came along and slashed crops indiscriminately, the aim of "control" is not necessarily smaller crops.

On Record

"We always contemplated a program which was one of adjustment," he said. "It is not exclusively one of either reduction or increase in acreage. You'll find I'm on record—has in May—on that."

A rise in the general cost of living, but especially foodstuffs, is considered likely this winter and the government is pushing preparations for its anti-profiteering campaign with war-time fervor. Secretary Wallace said he felt the cost of living would not rise more than six or seven per cent, although the price of food would probably go beyond that.

Exposés of "wild cat" speculators are planned as a chief weapon. The officials think that after full publicity, the force of public opinion will do the rest.

Strike In Cuba Growing Serious

Havana, August 14 (AP)—A strike of Cuba's postal and communications employees grew more serious today as treasury department workers, some bus and trammen and a group of dock workers threatened to join it.

Dock workers, who walked out several months ago and were later re-employed, were riled over the arrest of 23 jobless companions who tried to force companies to take them back yesterday.

Bus men and tram men were reported planning to strike unless the arrested dock men are released. A treasury department strike would tie up customs service, hindering shipping.

The Government announced a reopening of air mail service to the United States, after a three-day interruption by union soldiers and civilians to fly the planes.

Artists Hold Exhibit At Woodstock Gallery

Woodstock, August 14.—On Saturday, August 11, the twenty-third annual exhibit of the Art Gallery, located at the Art Gallery, opened its doors to the public.

This exhibition could almost be said to be of interest from the point of view of subject rather than ability of the artists.

There are many interesting paintings but none are especially well done except perhaps Henry Martin's "Apples," Nell Ives' "Ripe Apples" and Gottlieb's "The Ruins."

Others worthy of mention are Jo Canine's portrait, "Boy in Red Chair," "Cuban Traffic" by Mary Barker, Gamso's "Flowers," Doris Lee's "Nude."

The plastic work is quite fine. Familiar heads are "Harvey White" by Eugene Gereshor and "Alice Compton" in wood by E. L. Davis.

"Grief" by Harvey Fite is a figure with head and shoulders bowed under a heavy cloak. It is carved of a rough knotted log.

There are some rather unusual and unique pictures on display. Russell Lee's "Maverick Rest" is a familiar scene. Gunvor Bull-Tielman's pictures, "Girl with Flower" and "Lighthouse," are outstanding for their color effects.

So also are the patchwork like works of Louis Stone, "Still Life" and "Landscape." Hobson Pittman's "My Dresser" and "Flowered Cloth" use only the clear colors blue, green, red and yellow.

Boyer Gonzales, Jr., and Karl Fortes, both students of the School of Painting, have exhibited. The "Still Life with Aces," shown by Fortes, shows the influence of his teacher, Yasuo Kuniyoshi. Kuniyoshi exhibits his painting, "Skating," which has been seen at the gallery in the School of Painting.

"Beauty Culture" by Minna Citroen is very amusing, picturing a veritable torture chamber with would-be beauties basking their scalps in hoods resembling enlarged diving helmets. The expressions show various stages of agony.

Peggy Dodds has departed from her usual gloomy drunkards to paint a tranquil, daintily clad girl for "Lazy Hour." She has the same face peculiar to Dodds' portraits.

William Sanger has a startling picture, "War Trophy," ironically showing a drenched baby playing on a large cannon placed on the lawn. There are three excellent portraits by Frances Dalton.

Lila Copeland, Beeson Mark and Harriet Timmers have some lovely landscapes. In comparison with previous exhibits the present show seems somewhat inferior though interesting in many ways, the uniqueness of some of the work and the fact that works of new exhibitors are on display.

The complete list of exhibits is as follows:

Boyer, "Solitude," Gunvor Bull-Tielman, "Girl with Flower," "Lighthouse," Jo Canine, "Boy in Red Chair," Minna Citroen, "Beauty Culture," Lila Copeland, "Landscape," Florence Ballin Cramer, "Anniversary Bouquet," "From Nannygoat Hill," Frances L. Dalton, "My Brother," "Edith," "Portrait," E. L. Davis, "Homo Artifex," "Alice Compton," Peggy Dodds, "Lazy Hour," Ed Dreis, "Lary Hour," Mary E. Earley, "Cuban Traffic" (oil), "Burlisque" (monotype), "Nudes," Harvey Fite, "Grief," Karl E. Fortes, "Still Life, With Aces," "Desolate Landscape," Gamso, "Flowers," Eugene Gereshor, "Harvey White," Boyer Gonzales, Jr., "Nude," Harry Gottlieb, "The Ruins," Margaret Herrick, "Elizabeth," Nell Ives, "Ripe Apples," Yasuo Kuniyoshi, "Skating," H. E. Kleiart, "Flowers," Doris Lee, "Nude," Russell Lee, "Maverick Rest," R. Lethbridge, "Red Flowers," Bender Mark, "East River," "Tth Avenue and Canal Street," Henry Mattson, "Apples," Eugene McEvoy, "Central Park," John Nichols, "Spotted Pajamas," Thomas Penning, "Standing Nude," "Reclining Nude," Hobson Pittman, "My Dresser," "Flowered Cloth," Jane Rogers, "California Geranium," Caroline Rohland, "Girl with Mirror," Paul Rohland, "Asters" (water color), "Dahlias" (oil), Helen Rous, "Tiger Lilies," William Sanger, "Mr. and Mrs. Table d'Hôte," "War Trophy," Walter Sarff, "Nude" (oil), "Nude" (dr), "Nude Study," H. von Schwanenflugel, "Landscape," E. Madeline Shiff, "At the Piano," Adrian Siegel, "Still Life," "Viduct," Louis Stone, "Still Life," "Landscape," Harriet Timmers, "Provincetown Harbor," Elizabeth N. de Urzais, "Wittenberg Home," Marko Vukovic, "Studio Chair," Robert Gould Wilson, "Daylight Bulb."

Twelfth Ward Democrats

The Twelfth Ward Democratic Club was organized Monday evening at a meeting held in the Excelsior House on Hurley avenue. William B. Martin was selected as temporary chairman and Frank Winane as temporary secretary. At another meeting to be called later various committees will be named.

Argentine Drink

"Cada" is a drink made from sugar cane and used extensively in northern Argentina. Tobacco is steeped in the liquor to give it an added "kick."

Dead Doctor Heals

Stomach Ailments

A weird story is told of a well-known medical man who has cured a number of stomach ailments. Years ago this doctor created a prescription for stomach ulcers, acid stomach, gas pains, heartburn, indigestion, bloating, belching, and other symptoms when caused by excess acid. Then the good doctor died. But his name brought fame after death as one user told another of his wonder prescription. In the past six years, 5,000 grateful persons have written letters telling of their recovery. This prescription is now known to hundreds of thousands as the Uda's Treatment. All stomach ailments may have a free sample by writing to Uda, Suite 44, Foot-Schuyler Bldg., St. Paul, Minn. The seven-day trial box of Uda's Tablets is sold under a money-back guarantee of satisfaction by Van's Drug Store.—Adv.

Municipal Dance Patronized by 687

The public dance in the Municipal Auditorium, Monday night, drew an attendance of 687 persons. City Clerk Edgar J. Dempsey reported this morning. The amount taken in at the door was $171.75.

Those at the dance seemed to enjoy the program very much and indications are that next week's affair will draw a larger attendance than Monday's which surpassed all records since the dance series started.

Alderman Zucca was back in charge of the dance last night. Last week his place was taken by a committee made up of Jacob Tremper, Jr., and Joseph Epstein, aldermen of the Second and Sixth Ward respectively. Their dance was a marked success also.

Music at the weekly dances is continuous, furnished by two orchestras made up of musicians from the Kingston local. Next week's program will be marked by some friendly rivalry between the two bands on the stage. It has been announced. The dancers will decide the most popular ensemble of musicians.

SOUTH RONDOUT.

South Rondout, Aug. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Perry and daughter, Mildred, and Al Perry of Kingston, and Miss Regina McGrath of Bayonne, N. J., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Scherer of Connelly Heights on Thursday.

Marie and Sonny Patri of Brooklyn are spending some time with their grandmother, Mrs. Peter Dunn.

Buddy Digler fell at the swimming dock and injured a rib. The services held at the M. E. Church on Sunday for the late Mrs. B. W. Chandler were in charge of the former pastor, the Rev. C. W. Smith of Cossack, and were very impressive. They were largely attended by many friends from out of town.

New Tap Room Opens.

The New Senate Tap Room, in the Van Kleek building, corner of North Front and Fair streets, opened up for business today. Repairs and improvements, which include a new oak and mahogany bar and back bar, made by Schwarzwelder, hardwood floor and paneled walls in tan, have been made. Booths have been installed about the room and there is a private dining room adjoining. In addition to the newly opened lunch room and restaurant. The place is under the management of Charles Wierbach, formerly of the West Shore Hotel, but for the past three years, up to last spring, conducting the Exchange Hotel in Saugerties.

Origin of Cheroots

Originally the cheroot was a type of an inferior cigar from southern India and Manila in the Philippine Islands. The shape of a cheroot is like that of a cigar, but differs from a cigar. Instead of having one end rolled to a point and made considerably larger than the other, both ends are cut square. The word "cheroot" is derived from the Tamil word "shuruttu," which means a roll. The Tamils are the Dravidian inhabitants of southern India and Ceylon. Cheroots vary a great deal in quality. These made of the best tobacco are greatly liked for their delicate flavor.

To "Learn by Heart"

According to Vitzelly, How to Use English, "the origin of this phrase may be traced to 'learning by rote,' that is, by repeating words or sounds as a means of learning them, without paying attention to their meanings, as distinguished from 'to memorize' or 'learn by noting the meanings of the words, and thereby using the word.' The literary record of the phrase dates from Chaucer's time (1374), and usage has been steady thence to our own time. Learn by rote is of earlier date by about half a century."—Literary Digest.

Giants Have Disorder

Doctors know that a giant is a giant because of a glandular disorder, but they have yet to prove whether "Everybody loves a fat man" or "No-body loves a fat man" is right. They say that a fat man couldn't get so fat if he were jumpy and irritable, so probably the first is correct. A fat man's glands are misadjusted, too, and normalcy is therefore just luck and not very certain.

Schantz to Bear Mountain on Friday. She will spend two weeks at a North Shore camp. She was on the board of the Kingston Yacht Club and was a member of the Kingston Golf and Country Club.

Mrs. Helen McLean Thompson has returned from a vacation spent with relatives in Nova Scotia and has resumed her regular practice.

Betty, a guest of Mrs. M. E. May, Mrs. W. A. Dalton and daughter, and Mrs. Charles Whitaker. They accompanied Mr. Dalton who went on to Brooklyn to keep an engagement, and on his return expects to take Mrs. Dalton to visit her relatives in Connecticut.

The Rev. and Mrs. Devello S. Haynes, Miss Ruth Haynes and Richard Haynes have returned from a vacation spent with relatives near Bainbridge. Mr. Haynes resumed the services in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday.

GAS BUGGIES—As the Twig Is Bent.

Work Progressing
On the Boulevard

The work of laying concrete on the Boulevard made satisfactory progress last week. One lane was completed and is now open for traffic with flagmen at either end and a second lane was carried from the beginning at South Wall street to near the entrance to the Tuberculosis Hospital when work stopped Saturday.

There was a hold-up this morning while repairs were being made to the hopper on the mixing machine, but the break was fixed and at noon pouring of concrete to continue the second lane around the curve opposite the TB Hospital was under way once more.

The road will consist of three lanes of concrete from South Wall street to the foot of the hill, narrowing into two lanes up the hill to the TB Hospital entrance. On the curve opposite the hospital it will be four lanes wide and is then brought back to two lanes again, so continuing until it reaches the city limits.

First in Shenandoah Valley

The first white man to visit the Shenandoah valley was Louis Miché, a Frenchman, in 1707. He was followed in 1716 by Governor Spotswood and his Knights of the Golden Horse-shoe. The first settlers to enter the region were Germans and Scottish-Irish who came in from Pennsylvania in the early 1730s.

534 Tons of Currants
Shipped from Milton

Milton, Aug. 14.—The Hudson River Fruit Exchange of Milton has shipped for its members 534 tons of currants during the season just closed. These went out in car lots to cities of the eastern and central states for the preserving plants. Car lots were shipped to Chicago, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Boston.

In addition to these shipments large quantities were sent to New York. The Milton cold storage plant to be held as frozen currants for later sale. Prices for the currants shipped were uniformly better than in the past few years but the shipment was only about 50 per cent of last year's mark. The quantity was lessened by reason of the restrictions on currants acceptable because of spray residue.

Well, we may not have so much vegetation this year but we have a lot more regimentation.

Meaning of Kilograd
The word "kilogram" is made up of a Greek word meaning "a thousand" and a Latin word meaning "a step." It is the name proposed for a thermometer scale which would have equal degrees between the absolute zero and the boiling point of water at atmospheric pressure. Hence 1000 degrees Kilograd equals 100 degrees C. nearly. In derivation it is a hybrid; in theory it cannot be exactly realized, as the value of the absolute zero, in terms of measurable values, is not accurately known.

THEY'RE OUT-DATED because only the world's newest, biggest, most modern refining unit could produce "New-Action" Orange AMERICAN GAS. We had to build a new refinery to bring "New-Action" to you—no existing refinery equipment could do it.

This new refinery and our new and radically different refining principle, make it possible to convert more of the undeveloped energy in the raw crude oil into finished gasoline. It also gives "New-Action" Orange AMERICAN GAS greater SUSTAINING* POWER and means a better gasoline in every way a gasoline can be better—in anti-knock—surfer power—easier riding—readier acceleration and lower cost per mile.

Get tomorrow's gas today! Say "New-Action" American and get action at any of our dealers and stations from Maine to Florida!

*SUSTAINING POWER--the retaining of efficiency between refinery and road performance.

SOME INTERESTING FACTS

about the world's biggest, best, newest refining unit at Texas City, Texas

- The refinery covers 450 acres of land.
- It required an average of 2,500 men per day—a period of nine months to actually construct the refinery (aside from time consumed in planning).
- The refining unit is the most modern in the world—adopting the latest discoveries and innovations in the art of refining.
- An idea of the mammoth size of the refining unit can be obtained from the following:
  - In a single operating day, this unit will produce enough gasoline to run an average automobile 9,000,000 miles, or about 360 times around the earth at the equator.
  - Six 8-room houses could be set inside a single one of its furnaces.
  - One of its fractionating towers—most massive ever built—is as high as a seven-story building.
  - 40½ miles of piping were used just in two furnaces to provide the required heat exchange surface.
  - This unit will turn out enough heavy bunker oil in a single day to produce, if used in making electric power, current sufficient to provide the home lighting requirements of a city of 2,000,000 people.
  - In addition, large quantities of kerosene, furnace oil for home heating, and gas are made.

A Wrap-Around House

Frock in Six Pieces

There is something ineffably efficient-looking about the house dress that wraps. Every woman who has owned one will recall the style as being particularly comfortable to wear and easy to work in. Fall will bring us a new influx of designs built along these simple, sensible lines. Most of them are tailored nicely enough to be worn from early morning until it is time to get dressed for the afternoon.

The classic model pictured in the sketch has many features worthy of attention. It is made of a material that is a record-breaker in the domestic race for popularity—percale. The color is cool green with ring dots spaced evenly over the surface. The collar is white to give a flattering note of freshness to the face—one usually needs it on early morning occasions before one has had time to make a more finished toilette. This dress hangs comfortably from the shoulders as all house-frocks should; once it is on you have no painful reminders of weight, strain, or furbelows. The sleeves are short and the pockets safe and spacious.

Other materials that women with experience like for house-dresses are seersucker, gingham, poplin, cotton broadcloth and peasant prints. The last mentioned is a pleasing selection because it does not show the soil the way the crisp, plain cottons do, therefore it is well, when you do your planning, to decide to have at least one dress of figured material; if the collar is white it will be particularly attractive worn with little short, white aprons that have been crisply starched.

Maybe "Buck Brooklyn."

Baltimore—The ladies will march strength by hurling cat tins during suburban Brooklyn "Boogey Brooklyn" celebration. A very wide lane has been laid out to safeguard judges and spectators. Many contestants are already in training, unfortunately for windows and back fences.

Nostalgia

Milwaukee, Wis.—Mrs. Charles Christenbach, a war bride, confessed in court that she stole a pair of shoes because she was homesick. She hoped the government would deport her as a criminal.

Shirt Will Out

Season With Salt

St. Louis—Employees of a number of the city's largest industrial plants have been eating concentrated salt tablets during the unusually hot weather. The health department advised eating more salt as the best way to escape heat prostration. Heat deaths here this year total 415.

Ready For Business

Milwaukee, Wis.—No jewels or cash for these four thieves. A police warrant charges that since Christmas the quartet stole a ton and a half of railroad rails, a number of electric motors and a complete water pumping system.

Thug's Lament

San Diego, Calif.—When employees of an El Cajon grocery store came to work they found an unsuccessful attempt had been made to open the safe. Beside it they found a note signed "Chester." It read: "Sorry, I didn't have time. I got to get home before the old man gets up."

unattractive Cosmetic Skin

Every night—and before she puts on fresh make-up, Nettie removes stale cosmetics thoroughly with Lux Toilet Soap.

When you remove cosmetics the Hollywood way you guard against ugly COSMETIC SKIN

NETTIE is up-to-the-minute in everything that concerns beauty! While she uses cosmetics—as most modern girls do—she never risks Cosmetic Skin.

"Why should I," she asks, "when it's so easy to protect complexion beauty Hollywood's way?"

"In a few minutes I can remove make-up thoroughly—take every bit of stale rouge and powder out of my pores—with Lux Toilet Soap. It's the simplest way in the world to keep a satin-smooth skin."

Cosmetics Harmless if removed this way

Cosmetics need not harm even delicate skin unless you leave stale bits of rouge and powder in the pores to choke them. Then the pores become enlarged—dullness —tiny blemishes may result—signs of Cosmetic Skin.

Lux Toilet Soap is made to remove cosmetics thoroughly. Its gentle lather is ACTIVE, removes every trace of stale rouge, powder, dust and dirt.

Every night—and before you put on fresh make-up during the day—wash with Lux Toilet Soap. Screen stars use this soap to keep their skin utterly lovely... you should, too!

Yes, indeed I use cosmetics. But by removing them regularly with Lux Toilet Soap I guard against Cosmetic Skin

Financial Review and Outlook; No Popular Demand For Inflation

(Copyright, 1934, by Consolidated Press, Inc.)

New York, Aug. 14—Nationalization of silver, carrying the inference of a more rapid issuance of silver certificates than would have been the case of the treasury had continued its slow accumulation of the white metal in the open market, did not take the financial community entirely by surprise. It did, however, strongly accelerate the selective movements already under way.

The sensitive, high-strung speculator, at home and abroad, even previous to Thursday's executive order, had been playing his game with the notion that inflation is the trump card. Here he has solid railroad and public utility common stocks and purchased commodities and mining shares. In Europe he has pounded down the dollar and covered his foreign currencies.

At the same time the investor, less of an opportunist, has been taking account of what was being done and said concerning possible further devaluation of the dollar in terms of gold or the issuance of a large mass of silver certificates. In consequence, he has withdrawn his support from high-grade corporation bonds and slightly reduced his holdings of treasury paper.

Even before their sharper decline at the end of the week, the effect of this had been to bring government long-term loans down an average of

are now at the highest of the year but until the latest move along the path of silver gave them an upward flip it might have been said that they were rising from natural forces such as the greater intensity of the drought this week, resulting in higher grain prices and the effect of the crop on prices, leading it up to around 15 cents, and partly the use of any monetary reserves.

For some time it has been apparent that the opening of business which had been anticipated this autumn would develop slowly, if at all. The drag has been in the capital industries, where a high percentage of the unemployment now exists. There was good reason, however, to expect that as the crops were harvested and put into circulation, some portion of the normal lift in trade that comes in September, October and November would act as a stimulant. Now the country faces a new and unparalysed condition, that of a drought that will check business instead of stimulating it, for the estimated loss of $5,000,000,000 incurred through a considerable part of the season, taken from sections that have had a low spending capacity for several years. Thus the picture has changed radically and so suddenly that it will require time to make adjustments to it.

Ostrich Farming

One of the most fascinating pursuits in the Argentine republic is ostrich farming. The demand for ostrich feathers varies with the trend of fashion. When, a few years ago, the Empress Eugenie had enjoyed a brief vogue, the ostrich feather business in both South Africa and Argentina reached boom proportions.

Church, Woodstock, will preach in the Lutheran Church at Woodstock, Monday, August 15. The proceeds of the fair and sale of the church on Peters lawn, August 9, were $45.

Rose-colored Glasses

You know that saying about seeing the world through rose-colored glasses? You do, when your health is good.

I tried to figure out some way of getting this across to my children. Because I wanted them to drink more milk. Well, I found the answer right in the quotation.

I went out and bought some colored tumblers—pink, yellow, green, blue, red. And every day I put the children's milk in glasses of a particular color. They make a game of drinking milk now, and I know, since they're getting that priceless, balanced nourishment their bodies need, that life will be more of a game to them, too. You could drink more milk yourself. It's good for you!

THE G-E OIL FURNACE OUTCLASSES AN "OIL BURNER"...

as a "Sleeper" Bus outclasses the old time Stagecoach

IN A WORLD that has "sleeper" buses and "sleeper" airliners, you can't be up-to-date by choosing a type of automatic oil heating that was modern ten or fifteen years ago.

With the G-E Oil Furnace you not only have complete freedom from furnace bother, but automatic hot water the year round. This complete, coordinated unit would be worth paying more to have, yet it actually saves you money. Many former attachment-burner owners average 25% savings.

This seemingly impossible performance is an actual fact because of such things as a new kind of boiler—specially designed to burn oil, with a combustion chamber to fit the flame from the burner unit—oil atomized by "impact expansion"—"progressive combustion"—a minimum of heat loss from the boiler, and a minimum of heat wasted up his chimney.

Any home owner who insists upon his worth will want to have the whole G-E story. As to paying for this furnace, that is now made easy by our liberal terms that give you 2½ years' credit.

Come in, write, phone—whichever is most convenient for you. But get the facts—then decide—before the fall rush.

WILL SPEED COURTS IN FIGHT ON CRIME

New Law Will Bring Reforms in Procedure.

Washington.—Sweeping reform in procedure in federal courts of the nation is expected to be made under a new law authorizing the Supreme court to draft uniform rules for civil procedure.

The measure, which had been before many successive congresses and always had been pigeon holed, slipped through with virtually no opposition.

Chief Justice Hughes is expected to outline a course as soon as the court convenes in the fall, probably naming a committee of Supreme, Circuit and District federal judges to draft rules.

Can Prevent Delay. The high court, under authority of congress, already has promulgated rules designed to speed delay in criminal cases. Under the new power, it can prevent the delay which often breaks both the heart and pocketbook of a litigant of limited means.

Difficulty is expected in drafting rules satisfactory in every part of such a varied nation, but those who urged the legislation believe that important results can be accomplished.

The new rules in criminal procedure, adopted by the court shortly before it adjourned for the summer, deal with cases after conviction.

Provision for Speed. They include these provisions to speed appeals: Federal District judges must impose sentences without delay.

A motion for new trial or arrest of judgment must be made in three days, except for newly discovered evidence, and in this case the limit is sixty days.

An appeal shall be taken within five days after an entry of judgment of conviction.

Clerks are directed to immediately notify the trial judge when an appeal is filed, so that the record can be promptly prepared.

Save in exceptional circumstances, the appellate court must set an appeal for argument not less than thirty days after filing the record of appeal.

Preference shall be given in criminal cases in court of appeal.

The Supreme court has in the past few years endeavored to set an example for the courts of the nation. It has disposed of criminal cases with exceptional rapidity, and at the end of each term of court has completed all cases that could be heard, and also has decided them.

In former years the high court often held a case two to four years before a decision was made.

Jesuits Acquire Famous Spa Hotel for College. Cincinnati.—The Society of Jesus, ancient order of Catholic churchmen which was identified with colonial history of the Americas, has purchased West Baden Springs hotel, situated on a 6,000-acre estate in Orange county, Indiana.

The famous middle-western spa will be opened in the autumn as West Baden college for higher education of Jesuit seminarians of the Chicago province, who are preparing for the priesthood.

Announcement of the plan was made here by Very Rev. Charles H. Cloud, S. J., and Rev. Hugo F. Stoenmeyer, S. J., Xavier university, Cincinnati, a friend of Edward Ballard, West Baden, former owner of the watering place.

Ballard, a non-Catholic, donated the property outright to the Jesuits. It had been closed for a year.

The new school will be affiliated with the large chain of secondary and major schools under direction of Father Cloud and will be operated in conjunction with Loyola university, Chicago.

Texas Blends Beauty and Utility on Roads. Austin, Texas.—Landscaping the highways of Texas has been adopted as a permanent policy of the state highway commission, according to Gibb Gilchrist, chief engineer of that body.

As a part of this beautification program the roads are being lined by rows of native trees and plants. In due time hundreds of miles of trunk highways of the state will have been converted into shady, flower-bedecked avenues, he said.

"Texas was the first state to evolve a purely utilitarian plan of roadside improvement," Mr. Gilchrist explained. "We are having our work done by our own maintenance department and the trees and plants used are being dug up from Texas fields and woods."

One of the features of the improvements which are being made for the enjoyment of the traveling public is the establishment of roadside parks.

Bird Hunters Now Must Purchase Federal Stamps. Washington.—Every one wishing to hunt migratory waterfowl hereafter will be required to carry a $1 federal hunting stamp affixed to his state license, or to a certificate furnished by his postmaster.

At The Theatres

Today

Kingston.—"The Man With Two Faces." Adapted from the stage play, "The Dark Tower," this peculiar story is marked by hypnotic, dual personality, revenge and murder. A husband succeeds in putting his wife under a hypnotic spell, making it impossible for her to become the great actress she might be. The brother, played by Edward Robinson, manages to get this evil influence out of her life through extreme and dramatic means. Mr. Robinson, the star of the production, is cast in a difficult role, but he comes through with another noteworthy performance. Others in the cast include Mary Astor, Ricardo Cortez, Louis Calhern, Mae Clarke and David Landau.

Orpheum.—"Baby, Take A Bow." Little Shirley Temple, the child wonder who steals pictures away from the stars, is featured in a story built up expressly for her. As can be imagined, she is the whole works as she wins her way into the heart of the audience with her charm, beauty and naturalness. Her father is a salaried, accused of theft, and the show tells how little Miss Temple saves the day by proving her father honest and making everybody happy generally. James Dunn, Claire Trevor and Alan Dinehart are all in the cast, but they don't count very much with Shirley Temple at the helm.

Broadway.—"Forgotten Men." This film is sponsored by the American Legion Post number 150 for the cause of war veterans, the forgotten men of today. The pictures are authentic and interesting.

Tomorrow.—"Paris Interlude." Directed by the up and coming Edwin L. Marin, and with a cast that offers such talented players as Otto Kruger, Robert Young, Elsa Merkel and Madge Evans, this Parisian story of a group of youthful writers and their struggle for fame turns out to be interestingly done, talkie material. Sophisticated and elaborate, with some exceptional photography and lighting effects, the plot concerns, in a rather far-fetched manner, the love and sacrifice of friends for the sake and help of others. The acting is the big thing in this show. Good for the adult mind.

Orpheum: Same. Broadway: Same.

SAMSONVILLE. Samsonville, Aug. 14.—The large lawn at the home of Frank W. Davis was the scene of festivities on Saturday, August 11, when many generations of cousins met in a body for the Davis reunion.

The day was an ideal one as it happens to be each year and everyone seemed to have an enjoyable time.

The dinner was served cafeteria, the party numbering 52. Many other came during the afternoon so all told there were 80 or more. Many had supper before leaving for their homes.

During the afternoon the grown-ups played barnyard golf, baseball, races and other games were played by the younger ones, while the ladies listened to piano and vocal selections.

In the afternoon Mr. Hayes of Bushkill, a cousin, visited the cousins at the reunion. Many years ago he was chauffeur for Harry Kendall of Kingston and boarded at the homes of Granville Bolce and George Davis while on hunting trips in this section.

The people were from Krumville, Olive Bridge, Lyonsville, Kripplish, Port Jervis, Cottekill, Tilton, Gardiner, Burnside, Cornwall, Samsonville, Hobart, Esopus, Kingston and Saugerties.

The following officers were elected for next year: Mrs. Eva Davis Van Tassel, president; Frank N. Davis, treasurer; Florence Wright Short, secretary. The social committee appointed was Miss Alice Wright, Mrs. Mary Short, Mrs. Alice Davis, Mrs. Nina Christiansa, Mrs. Merritt Davis and others.

Miss Edna Davis and her brother as sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Davis of Burnside called to see Kenneth Davis Saturday evening.

Barton Barringer, who had an operation for appendicitis August 4, was able to come home Sunday. All are glad to know Barton is getting along so good.

Mrs. Singer, a nurse in Bellevue Hospital in New York city, spent the week-end at her home along the mountain road.

The date of the fair and church supper is August 23.

ARDONIA. Ardonia, Aug. 14.—Mrs. Peter Barclay was a guest of Mrs. Harry Patridge in Modena, Thursday.

Mrs. Lester A. Wager and son, Lester A. Jr., accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Preston Patridge and children, Gloria and Kenneth, were callers in town, Saturday evening.

Mrs. Herbert Winters of Modena called on relatives here, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Patridge have been entertaining Beatrice Ward and Gladys Coy of Modena.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Harcourt and children, Shirley and Shelly Ann, were callers in this place Sunday morning.

It is said that impatient parents in the drouth country no longer reprimand their children by telling them to dry up.

QUESTION BOX

By ED WYNN...

The Postcard Post

Dear Mr. Wynn:
Is it true that the average weight of a woman's clothing when she is dressed to go out in the evening weighs 14 ounces?

Yours truly,
N. CREDIBLE

Answer: Yes. But that is only temporary, as a manufacturer has just announced an invention which makes shoes much lighter.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I have been ill and my doctor advises "chicken liver." Do you think they are healthy?

Yours truly,
EIFFEL ALLIN

Answer: I never heard of a chicken complaining of its liver.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I am very fond of flowers and have just planted an entire bed of "Salvia Bulbs" for next summer. I should like to plant another kind of flower that would make a pretty border for my "Salvia" blooms. What do you suggest?

Sincerely,
ANN ASTOR

Answer: Inasmuch as you have an entire bed of "Salvia" why not surround it with a border of "Spittoon-las"?

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I am a married man, have been married only three months. I am a good hardworking man, give my wife everything she asks for, lots of spending money, lots of clothes, in fact, everything. Here's what I want to know: Last night I arrived home and found my wife in another man's arms. As I give my wife everything, how do you account for me finding her kissing another man?

Yours truly,
L. M. MADD

Answer: Inasmuch as you do so much for your wife, the only way I can account for your discovering your wife in another man's arms is that you came home sooner than she expected.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I have been in ill health for some time. The doctor told me to take some IRON. Do you think he advised me correctly?

Yours truly,
DELA WARE

Answer—Your doctor's advice is very good, if taken properly. I knew a man once who was sick and his doctor told him to take some IRON. He took a stove and was arrested.

THE FAMILY PICNIC

UNTIL the snow flies and the chill winds of winter drive us under the shelter of roofs and to the warmth of fires we will roam abroad with the picnic basket, enjoying the woods and streams. The advantage of sandwich filling that will keep several days is that it can be prepared in quantity and kept in the ice chest. The filling can be taken in glass jars and used for salads if so desired. Serve on lettuce.

Nippy Cheese Sandwich.
Add two tablespoonfuls of quick cooking tapioca to two cupfuls of canned tomato, strained and heated. Cook fifteen minutes until the tapioca is clear, stirring frequently. Add two and one-half cupfuls of grated cheese, stir until melted, add one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper, one-fourth teaspoonful of mustard and one-fourth teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce. Remove from the fire and add one and one-half cupfuls of finely ground dried beef. Cool well before spreading. This makes nearly three cupfuls of filling.

Egg Salad Sandwich.
Add one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper, one cupful of milk and three tablespoonfuls of tapioca, cook until clear, stirring frequently. Cool. Combine four tablespoonfuls of chopped celery, four hard cooked eggs finely chopped, two tablespoonfuls each of sweet pickles chopped and liquid from the pickles, one teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce and the tapioca mixture. Cool before spreading.

Mixup for Drinks.
Take one gallon of boiling water and twelve pounds of sugar. Stir until thoroughly dissolved. Keep in sterilized bottles. Add to any fruit drink as it sweetens quickly and makes a more agreeable drink than with the use of sugar. Use one and one-half tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and the same of the sirup to a glass of cracked ice, for an individual serving.

In a Garden Chair
By ANNE CAMPBELL

I HEAR the sea, the tumbling sea,
And smell the spray in the clear salt air.
The gulls are sailing close to me,
The sky is blue, the horizon fair—
And I have not moved from my garden chair.

The mountains rise to snowy heights,
I climb the trail, and the way is hard.
My soul moves on to new delights,
I glimpse high heavens; I am not barred.

From beauty, though held to my own back yard.

On wings of fancy I may go
To foreign countries and revel there,
Old sights are sweet in memory's glow,
And breathless I may never share
Is mine, as I dream in a garden chair!

Insull Is Leading A Simple Life

Chicago, Aug. 14 (AP)—Samuel Insull, Sr., who once spent 10 to 12 hours a day controlling the employment of 75,000 other persons, is taking life easy to conserve his strength for his forthcoming trial on charges of using the mails to defraud.

In contrast to the days when he built up a vast utilities empire, only to see criminal charges rise out of its ashes, the 74-year-old former head of 55 boards of directors is reported limiting himself to four to six hours of leisurely activity daily.

When he was brought back to Chicago from Istanbul, Turkey, last May, Insull was taken desperately ill. His family physician said there was extreme danger in over exertion.

A few old friends have been made welcome at the hotel where Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Insull, Sr., are making their home, and on rare occasions they have gone out for dinner at the homes of their acquaintances.

But this, Samuel Insull, Jr., said, involves exertion, and neither the elder Insull nor his wife have any ambitions to reassume the places they once held in society's giddy whirl.

And Vegetables

New York, Aug. 14—State Department of Agriculture and Markets.

The following quotations represent prices on sales by commission merchants and other original receivers on the New York city downtown wholesale district up to 8 a. m.

Cañadown receipts from the Catskill mountain region were more liberal and prices averaged lower. Offerings continued to vary in quality. A large volume of the sales were reported from $1.50-$2.25 per crate, some fancy, however, realized $2.50 and inferior sold down to $1.00.

The best cucumbers brought $1.00-$1.25 per bushel basket and dills and pickles $1.75-$2.00.

Uptate Big Boston lettuce supplies were less plentiful and the market stronger. Oswego county lettuce in crates of 2 dozen heads jobbed out at 60c-75c. Consignments from the western part of the state changed hands at 75c-85c.

Price changes for Orange county yellow onions were few and small. 50 lb. sacks of yellow onions U. S. No. 1 jobbed out from 85c-$1.00.

The market for spinach was dull and weaker. Offerings in bushel baskets or lettuce crates brought $1.00-$1.25 for the best.

ANNUAL CELEBRATION AT STONY HOLLOW SATURDAY

Old-time West Hurley residents, who vacated their homes and settled in other places when the Ashokan reservoir construction was started, plan to meet next Saturday evening at the annual August celebration at St. John's parish hall in Stony Hollow.

As in years gone by, the event will bring together former neighbors and acquaintances who perhaps had not met since they left West Hurley years ago.

Committees in charge of affairs have completed elaborate preparations and there is every reason for believing that all who attend will enjoy a pleasant evening. Dancing will begin at 8:30 o'clock. Music for old-fashioned and modern dance numbers will be furnished by Pete Boice and Juddy Haines. Refreshments will be served in an open air pavilion adjoining the parish hall.

Auxiliary Meeting.
The Ladies' Auxiliary will hold its regular meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the Downtown Republican Club. All members are requested to attend.

AD-SHOPPING MAKES YOUR BUYING DOLLAR GO MUCH FARTHER!

Ever play the game of ad-shopping? It's a great pastime and a grand time-and-money saver. Just make a list of what you want and need. Then check your list against the things you see advertised in the Daily Freeman. Compare prices to your heart's content. Make note of anything you see advertised that you may have overlooked in planning your shopping list. Now you're ready to go—without wasting the day tramping endlessly from one store to another. You'll come home fresh as a daisy.

Oh, but wait! Just add up the prices of the advertised items you are going to buy. Good deal less than you thought it would be, isn't it? That's what puts the biggest thrill in ad-shopping! You usually have enough money left over to buy something extra-nice and personal for yourself!

KEEP POSTED ON WAYS TO BETTER LIVING WITH THE ADVER-TISEMENTS IN . . . . .

NOT so many years ago the round, red fruit of a certain vine was called a "love-apple." A man in his right mind would no more eat it than he would go out and munch a toadstool. It was supposed to kill you at the very first bite! Then some hardy soul decided to "bite and see." And so the delicious tomato was introduced to a hungry world.

But news of the new tomato traveled very slowly. Your children might not be keeping healthy with it today if a grocer somewhere in an old-fashioned town hadn't been "stuck" with a bushel or two. Faced with a loss if they rotted, he threw discretion to the winds and ran an ad in the paper.

"TOMATOES FOR SALE. This fine new fruit said to be excellent for the health and complexion. I have a choice few. Fifteen cents apiece."

Mr. Grocer sold the lot, ordered more, sold those and presently was able to cut his price in half and then some while babies waxed fat on tomato juice.

CONVENIENCES GRANDMA NEVER DREAMED OF

As with tomatoes, so with vacuum cleaners, safety razors, oil burners and the latest hat from Paris. The merchants who advertise them to you have no burning desire to make this world a healthier, smarter, more leisurely place to live in. They want to sell vacuum cleaners, safety razors, oil burners and lovely hats—and advertising is the best way to do it. But their advertising has told you about a lot of things you'd hate to be without today. Their advertising has introduced you to comforts and conveniences your grandmother never even dreamed of! And—because all wise buyers read advertising—Mr. Merchant sells more advertised goods and can keep on lowering the price to you.

Reads like a romance, doesn't it? But you can prove it for yourself. As you check through the ads in the Daily Freeman today just count the number of things that make life pleasant which you might never have heard about if you hadn't "seen them in the ads." And count the number of things you'd like to buy but couldn't afford (like tomatoes at fifteen cents apiece) if advertising hadn't made them so cheap and plentiful.

Perhaps you'll agree—we could get along without advertising—along with tomatoes and fountain pens and checking fans and swell silk stockings at 69c.

But, honest—wouldn't it be a tiresome old world?

Detroit Tigers Invade New York, 50,000 Expected For Bargain Bill

By HERBERT W. BARKER

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—When the Detroit Tigers invade New York tonight for the first time in 20 years, many thousands of fans are expected to turn out to see the team play the Yankees at the Polo Grounds. The game will be a doubleheader, with the first game starting at 7:15 p. m. and the second at 9:15 p. m.

The Tigers brought with them a 12-game winning streak, longest in either major league this year. The series, crucial mostly to the second place Yankees, opened with a doubleheader in the Yankee Stadium this afternoon. Single games will be played tomorrow, Thursday and Friday. With a fair break from the weather, many prospects were for a crowd of close to 50,000 for the opening bargain bill.

Four and a half games in front, setting great pitching from Larned (Schoolboy) Rowe, Tommy Bridges, Eldon Auker and Fred Marberry, dead hitting from Charley Gehring, Goose Goslin, Hank Greenberg, Billy Kunkel, Marvin Owen and Cochrane himself, and a fair share of the "breaks", the Tigers thus were confronted with a fine opportunity to pull so far out in front that pursuit would be all but out of the question.

Joe McCarthy planned to send Vernon (Lefty) Gomez and Charley (the Red) Ruffing against the Tigers, today. Their rivals, if Cochrane stands pat on his announced selections, were to be Rowe, who has won 12 successive games, and Al Crowder, Washington cast-off.

The Tigers have won seven of the 13 games the two clubs have played so far.

Washington and Philadelphia had the baseball scene all to themselves yesterday, the Athletics pounding over nine runs in the first inning to win, 9-0. The A's fell on Al Thomas, Jack Russell and Alec McColl for ten hits, including three doubles, in that wild first frame. After that McColl blanked them with six hits but the Senators never could pierce Johnny Marcum's pitching defense.

The defeat left the Senators, last year's American League pennant winners, in fifth place, only half a game in front of the St. Louis Browns.

Helen Jacobs Wins First Round Tennis

By BOB CAVAGNARO

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP)—A champion without confidence—that's the picture Helen Jacobs painted of herself today as she collided with her second test in defense of the women's national tennis championship.

"It's a funny thing with me," the Berkeley girl said as she prepared to take on Jane Sharp of Pasadena, in a second round match, "but I'm never confident before a match or a tournament, for that matter. My practice is to go on the court and do my best and let the result depend on the way I play."

"Naturally I would like to win the championship again this year but there are plenty of stiff players in the field. For example there are Carolyn Babcock, Sarah Palfrey, and don't forget Betty Nuthall."

Miss Jacobs dispelled some of the fears about her game by the decisive manner in which she squelched Marjorie Sachs of Cambridge, Mass., in the first round. She won both sets at love in what amounted to a complete reversal of the form she showed in the Seabright invitation tournament a fortnight ago.

The Jacobs-Sharp match shared the spotlight in the second round with the engagement between Miss Nuthall and Baroness Maude Levi of Minden, Nev.

BILLIARDS

The second block will be played Friday evening.

The score of the game was 6 to 11 in favor of the firemen's team. There was a very large attendance. On account of an accident, a sprained ankle, to one of the girls, the game was not entirely finished, but 8 to 11 was the score when the accident happened.

THE SPOTLIGHT BY GRANTLAND RICE

THE TIGER RAMPAGE

It has been a matter of 25 years since the Bengal of the West—the Detroit Tiger—turned man-eater. Those were the days when Ty Cobb was the Georgia Ghost—when he was flanked by Wahoo Sam Crawford and Bobby Veach—when Wild Bill Donovan was spinning his fast one through.

It was in the year 1908 that Detroit, Chicago and Cleveland were wrapped up in the hottest finish the American League has ever known. All three had a chance, only a game apart, as the last week came along. It all came down to a final battle where Wild Bill finally took the measure of Big Ed Walsh, who had come close to throwing his arm off in a vain attempt to carry the White Sox through.

In 1909 the Tigers won again, and then ran into an unknown snag by the name of Babe Adams who bagged three games before the Pirates finished in front. This was the end of a three-year pennant run for the Tiger troop. Hugh Jennings had led them to victory in 1907, 1908 and 1909, with the Georgia Ghost running amuck all three years.

They fell before the brilliant Cubs in 1907 and 1908 with Three-finger Brown, Ed Reulbach, Pfeister and several others pitching to Johnny Kling, as Chance, Evers, Tinker and Steinfield handled the infield play while Jimmy Sheppard, Circus Holly Hoffman, Wildfire Schulte and Slagle stood on outfield guard.

This combination had too much for the Tigers to face—too much all around strength. Even the amazing Ty Cobb was unable to break through the Cub defense those two years.

Those were the days of Cobb and Wagner—Lajoie and Walsh—Crawford and Donovan—"Tinker to Evers to Chance"—Johnny Kling—Christy Mathewson and Addie Joss—one of the great eras of baseball history.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS LATER

From 1909 through 1933 the Bengal of the West lost most of his claws and most of his fangs. The great Cobb continued his comet career for another 20 years, but the Tigers' pennant winning days were over.

There seemed to be no pink and white dawn breaking in 1934 when Mickey Cochrane took over a ball club that was picked to finish fifth, with heavy odds against any pennant foray.

The infield was good, but the outfield looked weak, and the pitching was uncertain. Few gave the Tigers any chance at a first division place. But the keen and fiery Mickey Cochrane, bought from the Athletics, had other ideas. He soon had the Tigers believing they were good enough to win—good enough to smash the ex-champion Senators and drive their way through the New York Yankees with Babe Ruth fading after the manner of a mighty ship dismasted in the gathering fog.

Goose Goslin came back to his best year. Schoolboy Rowe came along like a runaway horse, taking his place among the greatest pitchers of the year.

The Tiger infield, built around Gehring, one of the star second basemen of all time, took its place in the front line of infield play. And back of it all was the flaming, driving spirit of Mickey Cochrane, a jockey riding with whip and spur.

When the Tigers fought their way to the lead, few outside of Detroit believed they could hold this high spot. But they kept hanging on as the Senators cracked and blew, and the Red Sox and the Cleveland Indians fell back before the smoking pace. The Yankees challenged and fell back. They challenged again and once more slipped before the pace they had to meet.

For more than a week they stuck together, only a game apart, waiting for the Tigers to crack. But the Tiger grip was firmly set in first place, with August slipping by, with Cochrane, a first-year manager, handling his men like an old master.

THE FIVE-GAME SHOWDOWN

The Tigers now face the road until September 5, with the Yankees at home. From that date on Cochrane will have his young men back where the fragrant odor of home cooking fills the rainy autumn air. And from that point on the Yankees will be on the road most of the route. Considering all this, the Yankees must scrap their way into a fair lead by Labor Day, and the big shot comes this week in the five-game series against the Tigers which opens up this afternoon.

This will be the most vital series of the year—up to this summer-surrounded spot. It may tell the story of the 1934 race, and Babe Ruth's desperate effort to get into one more world series before the Old Boy with the pointing finger beckons him from the active field.

"I know," Mickey Cochrane says, "the Yankees are tough on their own lot. They are much harder to take in the Yankee Stadium than they are away from home. But they will need all they can pick up before they hit the road again, with the Tigers back in their own jungle on the way through the stretch."

More than a month ago Cochrane said he had picked his starting pitcher for the first world series game. Some one, standing around, laughed, this pennant. I believe it, and the team believes it. "We are going to win! And through the next month the team that was to crack any day didn't crack at all.

Two of the main hopes of the two teams are Lefty Gomez and Schoolboy Rowe. Their left and right arms have been the main factors in the race to date.

Kingston and Brooklyn Legions Are Set For State Title Game

Tonight at the Fair Grounds at 8:30 the American Legion Juniors will take the field against the Brooklyn Rugby Foot to play ball for the Legion championship of New York state. The winner of tonight's tilt will meet the Trenton, N. J. Post for the first game of the National Sectional Title.

It is expected that Charlie Beck will be on the mound for the Kingston team with George Zadany behind the plate. The rest of the lineup will be intact with the exception of the hot spot, which will be taken care of by Tom Malina. The rest of the infield will include Van Dierse, Murphy and Busch. In the outfield will be Guess, Ashdown and Rehnhart. The lineup for the Brooklyn nine has not been announced as yet.

Both teams have a very impressive record and are a bunch of fast ball players. A big crowd is expected at the field.

A Large Array Of Stars Have Entered Title Tennis Tourney

Kingston's star court performers are warming up. With the tennis tourney for the city's championship slated to start on Monday, the boys are getting in plenty of practice matches, and all those interviewed said they would be in top form for next week's play.

There are several new topnotchers playing this year and the winner is not going to have an easy time getting through to the title, and possession of the large silver statue which will be emblematic of the supreme on Kingston's tennis courts.

Among the 15 entries so far received, are Stan Hancock, former Michigan intercollegiate title holder, Ed Strong, Hudson Valley champ, Harold Macholdt, captain of the High School team, Bob Herzog, one of the Aces of the Kingston Tennis Club and last but not least, by any means, is the present city champion and number one on the club team, Randall Rose.

The doubles title play will be started the latter part of next week. The draw for the singles will be announced Saturday evening. There is still plenty of time to send your name in to H. Osterhout, Kingston Daily Freeman, for both singles and doubles.

A Dozen Sleek Aristocrats Of The Turf Will Line Up At Goshen

Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 14 (Special)—Cynical sports fans, certain that no event remains which might remind them of the true sportsmanship of their juvenile sandlot ball games, or the homely hospitality of early American frescoes, are in for the surprise of their lives if their steps lead them to this village on Hambletonian Day, August 15.

For one great day, Goshen personifies all that which most persons think has been totally lost or mislaid in the commercialized tempo of modern life. The transformation to old-fashioned sport for sport's sake, hearty friendships and all the trimmings comes hand in hand with the Hambletonian Stake, three-year-old trotting classic.

Good Time Park, scene of the big race, gaily bedecked with bright-colored awnings, where women of community churches serve up hot and appetizing meals reminiscent of nothing short of "way back home, thronged with crowds of solid Americanism out to see a race more for glory than any monetary value, brings back to everyone's mind his childhood days when the county fair was the living embodiment of the true but true phrase, "A good time was had by all."

Due to draw unprecedented numbers "come week Wednesday", the Hambletonian Stake, with the Goshen Hospital as beneficiary, should prove the greatest trotting race ever seen, declare veteran horsemen who, incidentally, are as much a part of the general bedrock of character at the track as the spectators.

A field of 10 to 12 sleek aristocrats of the harness turf will go to the post August 15 for a purse of approximately $40,000, but the real pageantry of the day, nosing out the race by only a scant whisker, is the crowd itself, jubilant over whatever horse romps home first, happy in the knowledge that they've seen a sports classic of the old school.

Kingston All Stars In Series With Zulus

At the Athletic Field Friday at 6:15, the Kingston All Stars will start a series of games with the Zulu Cannibal Giants.

The second game will be played on Saturday at Fleischmanns, and next week they will come to grips at Middletown. No batteries have been announced.

The Kingston lineup will include Volker and Dodge, pitchers, Robins and Hoffman, catchers, and Bob Sickler, Tom Davitt, Charlie Jay, John Carpenter, Charlie Tiano, Jack Dawkins, Ed Burgevin, Bill Thomas, Kid Moore and Paul Joyce.

Fairviews Will Play 7th Ward Democrats

Wednesday evening at Block Park Fischer's Fairviews will cross bats with the 7th Ward Dems.

The Dems have already defeated the Fairviews in a game earlier in the season, but Manager Fischer announced that the tune played this time will be of a different note.

Peters will be on the slab for the Dems with Wenzel behind the plate, and Ed Scherer will hurl them over for the Fairviews with Koslowski catching.

Ladies' Tournament At Twaalfskill Club

The annual Ladies' Handicap Golf Tournament will get under way at the Twaalfskill Golf Club next week. There will be no qualifying round played. All the ladies are automatically entered.

The first round match must be played sometime during next week, not later than Sunday, August 26. First round matches will be posted at the clubhouse tomorrow and all information may be gained by phoning the club, 1171.

Game Cancelled

Because of the American Legion game being played today, the Trojan-7th Ward tilt is cancelled. The game will be played at a later date.

Naval Insignia

The white silk, or silver, angle used on naval uniforms signifies a petty officer; the open book, a prisoner, and the two stripes, or chevrons, indicate second class. Together they indicate a second-class prisoner.

The Hunch

By PHYLLIS M. CALLAGHER

© By McClure Newspaper Syndicate, Inc.

FOR three hours now Marjorie had been parked across the corner from Engine House No. 2, not close enough to see the men in the shadows of the ponderous engine but close enough to hear the men announcing fire.

Donald had said: "Listen, honey, I've been looking for a job ever since I graduated two years ago. You know when this depression is going to end? I'm fed up with being the laughing stock of rich parents. This is a job, I'm going to take it; be proud of it."

"But Don! Father offered—" His sensitive, stubborn mouth had hardened. He wouldn't, he said, be formed her, spend his life taking care of her father, pretending that his position as law clerk paid the freight.

"Donald! Must we wait forever? Tears had sprung to her eyes. They had waited so long, already."

"Marjorie, your father patronizes me!" Don had once said. "It wasn't true! He father, sting him up, had seemed cold and impotent behind the set lines of his face. But he wanted Don in his office because he believed in his ability."

Suddenly the hush of the lecherage day was broken by a clamor of bells. The long red engines swinging from No. 20 into the boulevard, sirens clearing their path, were not difficult to follow. When they turned into Lafayette square, Marjorie observed a group of people at the curb waving frantically. From their excited gesticulations, she surmised that the alarm was in the very heart of the city's largest public park.

Donald, his expression studiously different, for he had seen Marjorie slide from her roadster, was bawling the massive hose from the engine, several blue-coated firemen helping. The crowd was thickening, squinting their eyes against the sun, inquiring: "Where's the fire? A false alarm?"

Marjorie dug her hands deep in the pockets of her tweed sweater coat as Donald's glance swept over her indignantly. But his face, deepening to the crimson paint-job of the engines moving at the curb, betrayed him. She knew that he was suffering beneath her tongue-in-the-cheek attitude. For indeed, that was how she felt. She was waiting for Don to do his stuff, as he had phrased it, to perform some of the feats that had inspired him, his night before, to say: "Why, Marjorie! Firemen are heroes, actually!"

She had bristled with anger under his smug content. "Don! I'm not bawling the fire department! I am criticizing you! You're taking that job from some man who really needs it!"

"Who needs a job worse than I?" "But you have a chance in God's office, to follow your own profession. You'd be hot if a fireman took a law partnership you wanted?"

Donald was threading the hose through the thick shrubbery of the park now, other firemen following close behind. When they reached the scene of the trouble, they all stood back, startled, mouths agape. A crowd had gathered around a man who was obviously too terrified to scream, his eyes dilated above a luxuriously bearded face, his hands clutching wildly in the air. "A lunatic!" some one screamed.

Then a rush rushed to Donald and began excitedly. "That guy was asleep on the bench, mister, in a swarm of bees got in his beard! Give him the works!"

With that the crowd fell back and Donald, manning the hose, aimed at the victim. But Donald wasn't a fireman, really, and the powerful stream of water sent the man sprawling into a blossoming bed of tulips. Donald excited, accidentally increased the flow and the hose, like an alive myrtle, writhed out of his hands. The crowd scrambled futilely for safety behind trees, water streaming after them, soaking them to their skins; and Marjorie, taking a horrified step to Donald's assistance, was drenched with the rest.

"Splendid!" she said, brightly. "It's a good thing it was only bees in his beard!"

She came close, slight against his sturdiness, and tiny, for her drooping thatch scarcely reached his shoulder. "God! What an awe I made of myself!"

"Like a fireman trying a case of court?" she agreed lightly. Then "Oh! Don!" and there was a sob in her voice. "If you persist in this I won't wait!"

So swiftly that it seemed all in a motion, he crushed her hands in his own and leaned his dark face to hers. "You win!" he said. "Tell your father: It's not a permanent arrangement, though. When I can get something else."

And presently only Marjorie and the bearded man remained. "Wasn't this worth more to you than twenty bucks, Miss Wardell?" the man began. "I mean, I only agreed on the bees and calling out the fire department."

Marjorie offered the old trombone and another bill. He squeezed both so anxiously that the little instrument in his palm went off, mechanically, sounding very like a dove of peace in a luxurious beard. After all, a jobless actor, he had earned the money for this act, clearly!

Then, he said, "How did you know, Miss Wardell, that things would go out the way they did?"

"I didn't," she said. "I just had a hunch."

Fifth Ward Democrats

The regular meeting of the 5th Ward Democratic Club will be held this evening at the club rooms, North street, at 8 o'clock. All members of the club are requested to be present at this meeting since important business is to be transacted.
